President Little's Report.

President Little in his annual report said: "As we meet again, after another year of ministerial labor and anxiety, we are cheered by the assurance that we have not toiled in vain. On the fields we have left behind many sheaves have been gathered, while the end of the harvest is not yet." Dr. Little then spoke briefly of the virtues and achievements of the members of the conference who had died in the last year. After commenting upon the changes that have been made, he noted the unsupplied charges, and in this connection he gave a gentle warning to the young ministers not to marry until they had made some noticeable advance in their work.

He devoted some time to a recital of the He devoted some time to a recital of the difficulties of securing a permanent pastor for Waverly Church.

"I believe this field would respond to faithful work," the president said, "and soon develop a larger measure of strength if it were possible to give it a permanent pastor. This seems out of the question, will marry without giving the conference practically any service as single men." Dr. Little praised those who had made donations for the extension of the church activity. The Christion Endeavor and the junior societies, he said, showed increases in membership. He commended also the work that is being done at Western Maryland College, Westminster Theological Sem-inary, the Church Home, Women's Foreign Missionary Society and by other institutions and organizations more or less en-gaged in furthering the general aims of the church.

After being re-elected President Little made a brief speech.
"This vote assures me that I still have your confidence," he said. "Four years ago I went into this office untrammeled by any promises. Never did I ask any member have always carefully considered the re-quests of the brothers themselves and have never spoken with any but the brother put his arms about my shoulders and said no man could be president for three times without making enemies. Some men place a higher estimate upon their ability than the church is able to recognize. I know that always there are some who are dis-pleased, but I always try to do my best. might write a book about his experiences as president for five years.

David Hartim's Haunts

Where the winters are cold and the sold famous, a man says that he was an habitual coffee drinker, and, although he knew it was doing him harm, was too obstinate to give it up, till all at once he went to pieces with nervousness and insounia, loss of appetite, weakness and a generally used-up feeling, which practically unfitted him for his arduous occupation, and kept him out. "While in this condition Grape-Nuts food was suggested to me, and, abandoning coffee, I began to use it. Although it was in the middle of winter and the thermometer was often below zero, my entire living for about six weeks of severe exposure was Grape-Nuts with a little bread and butter and a cup of hot water, till I was wise enough to make Postum Food Coffee my table beverage.

"After the first two weeks I began to feel hatter"

CONGRESS TO MEET IN APRIL

Large Increase in Fund for Continental Hall Completion.

PRESIDENT GENERAL'S ACTIVITY

Members of Hall Committee—List of Standing Committees of the Coming Congress.

The Memorial Continental Hall committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution is meeting today in the board rooms of the D. A. R., perfecting plans for the comfort of the members of the continental congress which will convene at 10 o'clock April 16-Easter Monday. The committee which has been working very hard during the year to bring the building of the hall nearer completion, is said to be one of the strongest committees since the inception of the work. The president general, Mrs. Donald McLean, is chairman of this committee and it is stated that she has traveled nearly 50,000 miles in the interest of the Continental Memorial Hall, has delivered at least twenty speeches in its especial behalf, presided over many meetings in its interest and visited over twenty states. The president general says she found the greatest interest in the hall project, and that the chapters throughout the country are earnestly working to raise funds to complete the building, which, in her opinion, is to be an ornament to Washington. The committee is much gratified with the amount raised during the year, which is $60,000, more, it is stated, than has been raised in any one year up to this time.

The Continental Hall Memorial committee includes the four presidents general pre-ceding Mrs. McLean, coming first on the list appointed in the order of their service. Memorial Hall Committee.
